Dr Gwenllian Hughes

ROLE-SHAPED BIO | HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE TRAINING

Training only changes performance when people can use it on the next shift. Dr Gwenllian Hughes turns more than two decades of practice into usable learning.

She has developed managers under pressure, led frontline teams during recovery and designed onboarding and governance for new services. Training connects policy with the decisions made on a shift, the experience of residents and families, and the evidence expected by managers, boards and regulators.
